SERIOUS INJURIES

Sustained by Hamon Eddins, 8-Year-Old Boy, When Run Over by Automobile Driven by Mr. Rufus Simons, County Road Engineer.

Hamon Eddins, aged 8 years, was run over by an automobile driven by Mr. Rufus Simons, county road engineer, yesterday about noon and was seriously injured, his left leg being broken in two places and he was considerably bruised about the head.

Mr. Simons was passing a street car near the First District School when the accident occurred. The boy probably had his attention centered on something else and stepped from the pavement directly in front of the machine.

Mr. Simons immediately stopped his car, picked the boy up and took him to a doctor, who treated his injuries. He was then taken back to his home on Short street and last night was taken to Hayswood Hospital in order that he might receive the best of care.

The Eddins family moved here from Alabama several months ago and the father secured work at the Maysville Cotton Mills. The mother of the child, of which there are several is dead. Although the family is poor it is quite a deserving one as the home is kept clean and the father is keeping the children in school. There is a case where some little acts of charity would not be misapplied.

Although the injuries to the little fellow are serious and rather painful, it is thought that he will get along all right if given the proper care.

MRS. NELSON THOMASSON DEAD

NOTED ORATORS

To Address Maysville and Mason County Tomorrow Evening and Will Give Some Stirring War Messages.

A patriotic mass meeting will be held at the First Baptist Church tomorrow evening under the auspices of the Mason County Woman's Council of Defense and the Chamber of Commerce, at which time the people of Maysville and Mason county will have the opportunity of hearing two very distinguished speakers. Dr. Lyman Abbott, editor of the Outlook and one of the most noted writers and thinkers in America, and Dr. Ernest Powell, who has just returned from the fighting lines in France and Italy, will be the speakers of the evening.

The speakers will be here in the interest of the League to Enforce Peace. The people of the county will have the assurance that they will listen to two splendid addresses, as no men of greater oratorical powers will ever visit this community. They are men who know their subjects thoroughly, and know how to present them in a most convincing and easily understood way.

Dr. Powell who has been on the firing lines in the beleaguered countries of Europe for several months, will tell you of the shameful deeds of the Hun, who murdered innocent women, children and old men and laughed at their death agonies. He will tell of their shameful crimes against the young women of France and the atrocities of the Germans among their own women since the war began, in which secondary marriages are encouraged, with the possibility of polygamy after the war. What the fate of the world will be if the Germans win.

Dr. Powell, however, will tell you very frankly that Germany will not win the war, insisting that Germany will be beaten because it cannot withstand the Allies when they once get into the conflict in earnest.

Dr. Abbott, the editor of the Outlook, needs no introduction to the many readers of his magazine in this vicinity.

There is no doubt but that this will be a big meeting as the people of Mason county are desirous of learning more about the war from those who are in close touch and able to give correct information.

ICE PRICES TO BE RAISED

The attention of our readers is called to the statement of the Maysville Ice and Cold Storage Co. in today's Ledger, regarding the advance in the price of ice, effective April 1. The company owing to the tremendous increase in the cost of all materials used in the manufacture of ice is compelled to make slight advance. The patrons of the Maysville Ice and Cold Storage Company have, up to this time been especially favored inasmuch as the cost of ice here has been much lower than the in other cities of the state. The advance at this time is a matter of absolute necessity.

TWO VILLAGES ARE REGAINED

By English in Swift Counter Blows at Hun—Great Force of German Offensive Relieved Spent.

London, March 27.—Tonight's news from the battle front confirms the hopeful impression formed early in the day that the British now appear to be on a line they are able to hold firmly, at least on the Somme and the Ancre rivers.

Further south in the Roye-Noyon region, the situation is less well defined, but it is stated that both the French and British are bringing up reserves there. The correspondents also are showing greater confidence that the enemy will be held on this terrain.

The German official communication of tonight was significantly brief and reserved. It reports the crossing of the Ancre, but only refers to Tuesday's events while the British war office statement shows that the Germans who had crossed that stream were thrown back today in counter attacks.

The infantry fighting along the major portion of the British front in the new battle zone showed a marked slowing down this morning, indicating that the first phase of the German offensive here has been finished. From the southern sector however, came word that the Germans were still pressing the attack with great fury against the unwavering defense. The enemy has paused in the northern sector, probably to reorganize and bring forward much-needed artillery before beginning the second round against the stiffening opposition of the British.

Hard local battles were still in progress but the first fury of the German onslaught had spent itself. Several attacks which the Germans last night which were essayed were smashed and at Sally-le-Sec, where the Germans last night gained a footing, the British this morning delivered a smashing counter attack, which pushed the invaders back.

The British delivered a counter attack today between the angle of the Ancre and the Somme and recaptured Morlaucourt and Chilly, the war office announced this evening.

The French have been heavily engaged west of Roye and were forced to give ground, the announcement states. Reinforcements for them are arriving.

An enemy attack in the neighborhood of Buquoy has so far made no impression upon the British lines. A number of other heavy attacks both north and south of the Somme were repulsed with heavy losses to the Germans.

The British forces are not only offering strong resistance to heavy enemy attacks both north and south of the river Somme, but have carried out numerous counter attacks during the day, resulting in the regaining of ground and the driving back of the Germans at various points.

The report from Field Marshal Haig tonight declares that in these operations heavy casualties have been inflicted on the enemy.

DOG WAGON ON THE JOB

Maysville took on city airs this morning when a wagon carriage belonging to the Washington Opera House was fitted up as a dog wagon and Dogcatcher Howard McDonald was put on the job to pick up all the stray canines. This is a good move and the city will be much better off when all the worthless curs are gathered up.

MANY SUFFER FROM PTOMAIN POISON

Due to poisoned eggs or fish that were served at the High School lunch room Tuesday a large number of the students and teachers suffered from ptomaine poison. The majority had only a slight attack, but several still remain very sick.

There were several out of the school who ate of the fish and were ill and it is thought from that the fish were tainted, yet several who ate custard at the High School and did not touch fish were ill, so it is likely that both fish and the eggs in the custard were tainted.

CARE

In the management of a business is what produces security and success. In the management of the affairs of a bank it is especially necessary. In the conduct of our business we exercise every care known to experience and throw around it every security known to the law.

Our bank, being both a State Bank and a member of the Federal Reserve System, is subject to both State and National inspection and supervision.

We have three fire and burglar proof steel vaults, which are as secure as strength and science can make them and that are equipped with time locks and all modern appliances, in which the money and securities left with us are safely kept.

Every officer, clerk and bookkeeper in our Bank is bonded in a standard bonding company.

We have no overdue paper that has not been charged off. The most of our money is invested in local securities, and all in first-class paper, only.

Our correspondents are among the most reliable and substantial banks of the country. The most of our reserve being carried with the Federal Reserve Bank, of Cleveland, Ohio.

We are members of the American and Kentucky State Bankers Associations and entitled to the full protection of both of said Associations, against forgers, swindlers and burglars.

Our Officers and Directors are men of business experience and capacity and give to this bank the same careful consideration that has proven so successful in their individual affairs.

Care and Safety are our watch-words; helpfulness our aim; and Progress our motto. We would like to have a share of your business and will attend to it in the manner stated above if you will kindly favor us with same. No account is too small for our full care and appreciation. THE PLIGHT OF HOLLAND

The necessity for taking over the shipping of Holland and the plight in which that country is left, is another reminder of the precarious position of the small nations, with the great powers of the world at war. Holland dare not consent to the proposals of the Allies. She is powerless to resist the policy determined upon. If she assented her territory would be quickly overrun by German troops. It was a matter of indifference to the Allies whether she submitted under protest or assented. In either case, Holland could not resist.

In other words this small independent country, independent in name, is powerless to resist the maelstrom of a world war. Peace is the only condition in which the small nation can enjoy security. War on a large scale must necessarily endanger the interest even of those small countries who are not forced into actual participation. There is after all, a serious question as to whether in this modern era of concentration, in this period of the development of powerful nations, there is really a place for the weak states in the complete enjoyment of independence.

Holland because she is largely independent upon her overseas trade is forced into a position of economic dependence upon the Allies. The Scandinavian countries are really dependents of Germany. If the smaller states are not to be absorbed by the larger ones, if the weak nations are really to have a place in modern affairs, there is the necessity for an international arrangement, for an agreement among the great powers that shall be left in the world after the war is over, that will establish and secure the status of these smaller states.

The experience of Belgium shows, however, the precarious character of the independence of a country dependent upon treaty arrangements between vastly more powerful nations. After all, real independence on the part of a nation is the independence which the nation is able of itself to establish and maintain. However, in the new conditions imposed upon the world by the great war, even the greater powers are scarcely in position to maintain this sort of independence. Even with the help of her Allies, Russia, four years ago, counted among the first powers of the world, has not been able to maintain herself. Not one of the Allies contending against Germany, would be able to maintain independence if left alone. The United States, in a more advantageous position to struggle with Germany than any other one country, would be no match under present conditions for Germany alone, to say nothing of Germany assisted by Austria-Hungary, Bulgaria and Turkey.

With the United States and Great Britain eliminated from the pending struggle, the complete domination of continental Europe by the Teuton would be only a matter of weeks. Under existing conditions there is only one really independent power in the world today, and that is Germany, since Germany's Allies are merely dependencies. Italy, France, Great Britain and the United States, arrayed against Germany, are able to maintain their independence because they are leagued together. We are reasonably certain, when the war is over, to have world domination from Berlin or we are to have a world controlled by a league of western powers. Italy, France, Great Britain and the United States, if they are able to save civilization from the dangers now threatening it will continue to stand together for the rehabilitation of the world along safe and sound lines, for the security of the fruits of a victory that must be won, if at all at a tremendous cost.

If the Teuton is victorious, the small nations now neutral, will be compelled to put on the Teutonic yoke. If the league of western powers representing modern civilization, are victorious, the smaller nations may expect that the protection and security the powerful peoples will have secured for them will refuse an obligation on their part, to give moral and national support to their protectors in maintaining the peace of the world.—Lexington Herald.

MISTRUST BREEDS FALSE RUMORS

It is undoubtedly true, as asserted in a recent plea to editors to check false war rumors, that enemy agents have been busy starting depressing gossip in this country. It is undoubtedly true that such gossip has the effect desired by its authors. But it is also true that most of such gossip would make no progress whatever if the people felt that they could depend absolutely upon the administration at Washington to give them prompt and accurate information concerning things which may properly be made public. Whenever the people of the country can feel confident that "if it hasn't been announced by the Bureau of Information it isn't true" they will cease to pay any attention whatever to idle or malicious rumors. Unfortunately the people still have in mind instances in which the giving out of important news was needlessly delayed, and they can not forget the instance in which important news was "elaborated". That the cause of the United States has suffered from such a policy is not the fault of the newspapers nor of the people, but of the officials through whom both press and people had a right to expect frank information. Whenever the official publicity bureaus restore themselves in the confidence of the people, the gossip mongers will be out of a job.

CAN THEY SPELL "WIN"?

In a public school test of children in the sixth and seventh grades of the public schools of a large city recently, "lose" proved the hardest word to spell. In the sixth grade 1017 out of 80999 misspelled it—about one in eight. In the seventh grade 397 out of 4703, or about one child in 12, failed to spell it correctly.

In the city in question there is a good deal of rejoicing about the results of the tests as a whole, because they showed an average percentage of 92, which is a great gain over a survey of a couple of years ago, at which time the average was only 76.

Now "lose" is rather a difficult and catchy word to spell, because it doesn't sound as it's spelled, and because it is so closely akin to "loose" which does sound and spell alike. But in these troublous times, the average citizen rather hopes that there may have been some subtle psychological reason for the fact that of all the words, hard and easy, given to several thousand children to spell, more failed on "lose" than on any other. Does it mean that they are equally unacquainted with its meaning? And do they not all know how to spell "win"?

CONSTIPATION

And Sour Stomach Caused This Lady Much Suffering. Black-Draught Relieved.

Meadowville, Ky.—Mrs. Pearl Patrick, of this place, writes: "I was very constipated. I had sour stomach and was so uncomfortable. I went to the doctor. He gave me some pills. They weakened me and seemed to tear up my digestion. They would gripe me and afterwards it seemed I was more constipated than before. I heard of Black-Draught and decided to try it. I found it just what I needed. It was an easy laxative, and not bad to swallow. My digestion soon improved. I got well of the sour stomach, my bowels soon seemed normal, no more griping, and I would take a dose now and then, and was in good shape."

I cannot say too much for Black-Draught for it is the finest laxative one can use. Theodor's Black-Draught has for many years been found of great value in the treatment of stomach, liver and bowel troubles. Easy to take, gentle and reliable in its action, leaving no bad after-effects. It has won the praise of thousands of people who have used it. NO-135

CLOTH FOR DAMAGES

(Lowell Courier Citizen)

On the single little item of bandage and surgical dressing cloth the Government makes it apparent that there is no expectation that the war will come to an unexpected end. A third contract is now being awarded, and it calls for 240,000,000 yards, 150,000,000 of which will be made in Fall

River. In the previous contracts the mills of that city received a total allotment of 150,000,000, so that one may assume that 500,000,000 yards has been the minimum to date, and does not include the bandages already made by the Red Cross. Lowell mills do not come in on these contracts, being engaged on other lines of war orders, but it is interesting to note that the War Department has begun to el-

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was overworked, run down, nervous, could not eat or sleep. I felt like crying all the time. I tried different remedies without benefit. The doctor said it was a wonder I was alive, and when Vinol was given me I began to improve. I have taken eight bottles and am now strong and perfectly healthy in every respect, and have gained in weight. I can not praise Vinol enough."—Mrs. Sarah A. tion and equipment at 6th and B St., Washington, D. C. In addition to her regular duties as one of the staff assistants of the Dispensary, Dr. Karpelies will be in charge of the physical examination of women employees of the War Dept. in Washington. In the opinion of officers of the Medical Dept., Dr. Karpelies is peculiarly fitted for the position assigned her because of high personal qualifications as well as her professional standing. She is a graduate of the Medical Dept. of Johns Hopkins University.

The Emergency Dispensary for emergency cases arising among civilian employees of the War Department will be located in the same building as the General War Dispensary planned for officers and their families and enlisted men. Both dispensaries will work under the same direction and under the immediate supervision of the Medical Dept. of the U. S. Army. The building will contain an eye dispensary, dental clinic, surgical and x-ray equipment, and rooms for the distribution of suspected cases of contagious disease.

One of the features of the Emergency Dispensary will be a rest room for women employees of the War Dept.

THE GREATEST INSURANCE BUSINESS IN THE WORLD

More than $12,000,000,000 of insurance upon the lives of members of the military and naval forces of the United States has been written by the Bureau of War-Risk Insurance of the United States Treasury.

A year ago the total amount of life insurance in force in the United States was about $22,000,000,000. In a few months the United States Government has written more than 50 per cent of that amount.

It furnishes this insurance to the beneficiaries at the same rate that private companies would furnish it in times of peace. This insurance is bought and paid for at regular rates by the beneficiaries, except that the Nation assumes the additional risk that being in the military, and naval service of the country entails upon the beneficiaries.

When Americans give up their private occupations and in obedience to the call of their country and the law of the land, often at great financial sacrifice, face the dangers of war and offer their lives in the service of their country. It is but right and just that upon the nation and not upon them should be put the added cost of insurance their dangerous occupation incurs.

Secretary McAdoo says that the soldier and sailor insurance is the just, wisest, and most humane provision ever made by any nation for its fighting forces. This opinion is shared in by the soldiers and sailors and by the people of the United States. The injustice, the partiality, the inequalities and other evils of the old pension system are replaced by a just, fair, and generous insurance system which over 90 per cent of the fighting forces of the nation have hastened to take advantage of.

PRACTICE OF MEDICINE GUESSED

It has been said that the practice of medicine at best is simply a game of guesswork, because the action of drugs varies to a great degree upon different individuals; but when a medicine has lived for forty years, constantly growing in sales and popularity there can be no greater proof of its merit. Such a medicine is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that famous old root and herb remedy, now recognized from shore to shore as the standard remedy for female ills.

LIGHT IN WINDOW 50 YEARS

(Danville (Ill.) Cor. Indianapolis News)

Mrs. E. Wolgamott, 80 years old, whose husband was among those reported "missing" during the Civil War and who had kept a lighted lamp in the window of her cottage for more than 50 years, hoping that some day he would return, and the light might guide him home, is dead at the Hospital for the Insane at Kankakee. Her husband was a member of the One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Illinois Infantry, which was organized here.

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WELL?

Many Maysville People Know the Importance of Healthy Kidneys.

The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. Weak kidneys remove impurities. Weak kidneys allow impurities to multiply.

No kidney ill should be neglected. There is possible danger in delay.

If you have backache or urinary troubles, if you are nervous, dizzy or worn out, begin treating your kidneys at once.

Do a proven kidney remedy. None endorsed like Doan's Kidney Pills.

Recommended by thousands. Proved by Maysville testimony.

W. H. Lynch, shoemaker, E. Third St., says: "My kidneys were weak and sluggish. At one time the action of my kidneys stopped altogether. I finally used Doan's Kidney Pills and in a short time the action of my kidneys became normal. I kept on taking them and they completely relieved me." (State given January 9, 1912.)

TROUBLE NEVER RETURNED

On November 14, 1916, Mr. Lynch said: "I haven't had any need of a kidney remedy since I last recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. They have permanently cured me."

Mr. Lynch is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that Mr. Lynch had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 60 cents at all stores. STYLE WEEK

Maysville merchants have been made to realize that Style Week really amounts to something if proper window displays are made. The crowds that have been on the streets for the past two nights, and especially on Tuesday night, prove conclusively that Maysville people are interested in window displays and will buy at home if the right kind of goods are placed on sale. Style Week will continue all this week and those who have not been down in the business section are urged to take a look at what our merchants have to offer.

DRAFT CHANGES FAIL TO REACH VOTE IN SENATE

Washington, March 26—After more than two hours' discussion of the war situation today the Senate again resumed consideration of the War Department bill amending the draft law to require registration of youths attaining 21 years of age since June 5, 1917, including Senator New's compulsory military service amendment for training youths between 19 and 21 years.

Senator Kirby, Democrat of Arkansas, vigorously attacked compulsory military training and Senator Sterling of South Dakota submitted an amendment providing that the training period for youths under 21 be restricted to six months in the aggregate.

A vote could not be reached within the time allotted to the bill and it again went over.

The Maysville Assembly Club will entertain with a dance Friday evening, 5.
